

Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA)

Specialization in Human Resource Management

OVERVIEW

AIU® offers an industry-relevant BBA program with an in-depth specialization in Human Resource Management that's designed to give students a solid background in business fundamentals, along with real-world knowledge and skills relevant to the responsibilities of an HR professional in the workplace.

CURRICULUM INCLUDES

In this specialized curriculum, students can immerse themselves in the study of the recruitment process, employee selection and human resources record keeping in organizations. Students can also learn techniques corporations use to retain and develop talent within their workforces and drive organizational effectiveness.

This real-world specialization offers the opportunity for in-depth study, with more than half of your courses in your area of interest. It can help you develop a focused, industry-relevant knowledge base common to today's human resources professionals. For example:

Personnel and Organization Policy: students examine the personnel policies that must be in place in order to select and implement human resources programs within an organization. This course covers basic aspects of policy writing for employee selection, performance management, disciplinary process, employee motivation and career management.

Employee Recruitment and Selection: students examine the essential functions of recruitment and selection including ethics, legal requirements, job analysis, job descriptions and selection tools. It also presents how the effective management of people and jobs depends on accurate, reliable, comprehensive and current personnel information.

Training and Development: course content focuses on various training and human resource development techniques utilized by corporations to improve employee and organizational effectiveness, including needs assessment and analysis, training design and implementation, evaluation techniques, and management succession planning.

WE CAN HELP YOU

- Apply team-building and leadership skills
- Recognize and manage potential ethical and legal conflicts
- Develop a personnel selection process for a specific position
- Establish performance standards for a job and select methods of performance appraisal
- Evaluate the relative worth of a set of jobs and determine a compensation structure
- Determine appropriate disciplinary action for a given situation
- Develop change strategies for collaborative group relations

* Not all credits are eligible to transfer. See the University Catalog for transfer credit policies.
